Differentiated Reading Comprehension Strategies

“Comprehension is an active engagement with text; it is an act of thinking.” —Fredericks, 2006

Providing proven and practical strategies and down-to-earth teaching techniques, this full day of training enables every elementary teacher to have a successful, productive, differentiated classroom—one focused on the essentials of reading instruction—with comprehension in the foreground. The program includes practical ideas, current research, dynamic strategies, and powerful information to guide teachers in designing a more fulfilling and more successful reading program.

Program Outline

Differentiated Reading Comprehension Strategies uses differentiated strategies to help teachers strengthen their reading curriculum and refresh their reading instruction.

Participants will learn what students absolutely need in order to become successful readers. And, they will understand the importance of connecting background knowledge, varying techniques for students, and modeling what good readers do.

Throughout the day participants will learn and master the Six Key Concepts all students need to be successful readers. Each concept will be supported by hands-on activities and strategies that teachers can take back to the classroom and implement the immediately.

Differentiated Reading Comprehension Strategies provides teachers with creative ways to “energize” their reading curriculum, reinvigorate their instruction, and make a difference in the lives of their students. It is for teachers who are ready to take the “next steps” to create successful readers. And, it is for every elementary teacher who has ever wanted to go “above and beyond” in both their teaching and their influence on the literacy development of young readers.

Program Materials

Comprehensive Resource Book

As part of this one-day training, every participant will receive a Resource Book containing all the practical strategies, ideas, and materials covered in the program. It will be a worthy addition to your professional library that is sure to be referred to again and again!
